Foreword

We, the students have the whole world in our hands. It is up to us to make the best use of this world, which at the present is our school. We have to forget the limitations, make the most of the opportunities and abilities we have, and fulfill the promises within us. To some this may not seem important, but the future depends greatly on our use of opportunities now.

Thomas Carlyle once said, "Here in this poor, miserable, hampered, dispicable Actual, wherein thou now standest, here or nowhere is thy Ideal; work it out therefrom, and working, believe, live, be free. O thou that pineest in the imprisonment of the Actual, and criest bitterly to the gods for a kingdom wherein to rule and create, know this for a truth: the thing thou seekest is already here, "here or nowhere," couldst thou only see,--."

We should also recall that in criticizing our world we criticize ourselves for we make up this world. We, the students, should aspire for perfection in ourselves and in our world, for "We hold the whole world in our hands."

*Dedicated to Coach
Ed
Emory*

You have improved our world a great deal in the past three years. Through your inspiration and leadership our sports program has come a long way. We have had teams whose records have made us all proud. Your idea of always doing your best and putting forth your greatest effort will remain with us throughout our lives.

For these and many other reasons we, the Seniors of 1966, take pride and pleasure in dedicating our edition of THE TIGER TALES to you, Coach Ed Emory.

Page Six

Coach Ed Emory takes pride in his Wadesboro Tigers as he discusses controversial touchdown with referee at the Rohanen game.

Our Continents

As the continents are the main bodies of the world so our faculty are the continents of our world, the school. Through their guidance and devotion we gain knowledge day by day that will aid us all our lives.

Someone once wrote:

A teacher builded a temple;
    She wrought with skill and care;--
Forming each pillar with patience,
    Laying each stone with prayer.
None saw the unceasing effort;
    None knew of the marvelous plan;
For the temple the teacher builded
    Was unseen by the eyes of man.

But the temple the teacher builded
    Shall endure while the ages roll;--
For that beautiful, unseen temple
    Was a child's immortal soul.

Our Countries

The world is made up of countries, which in our world are represented by our four classes. Each year our world becomes more complicated by new challenges, new studies, new activities, and new responsibilities.

The seniors are sitting on top of the world. Many hours of hard work and fun have made this possible. The juniors are almost there. They have only one more mountain to climb and are feeling very sure of themselves. The sophomores are off the low grounds and are climbing upward. They have a better chance of reaching the top of the world now that they have got over that first big mountain. The freshmen have a long journey ahead of them filled with many exciting adventures. They are reaching for the top of the world.

The classes should all aim high and work toward those aims; for by doing this, they will gain success. Through their aims, the classes will help to make the world a great place in which to be.

Jean de La Bruyere said, "There is no road too long to the man who advances deliberately and without undue haste; there are no honors too distant to the man who prepares himself for them with patience."

Senior Class Song
Tune: "Moon River"

We're Seniors, off to see the world
There's such a lot of world to see.
But as we leave you we will remember
All of you within our hearts.
All the good times we have shared with you
And memories we have will stay.
We're after our goals, far away
And we'll find a day
To come along your way
Dear Wadesboro High.

Seniors

The Senior Class looking down from its position on top of our world was feeling very confident and gay. Its members considered themselves prepared to meet any challenge or conquer any goal.

The Seniors' year was filled with many activities and responsibilities. Many of them won recognition during their Senior year by achieving positions such as President of the Student Council, Editors and Business Managers of both the TIGER TALES and THE STUDENT PRINTS, Homecoming Queen, and Carrousel Princess. The Seniors were the honored guests at the Junior-Senior Prom to which they looked forward. Then graduation arrived, a day the Seniors had worked toward for twelve years.

The world of the Junior Class was really an exciting one. With the help of their advisers--Mrs. Williams, Mr. Bailey, and Mr. Litaker, the juniors faced many responsibilities and problems which they met with smiling success.

The Junior Class led in many school activities. Included among them were cheerleaders, homecoming sponsors, lettergirls, majorettes, honor students, and athletes. The juniors were very proud of their first-place winning float in the annual homecoming parade. Another big event of the juniors' year was the arrival of class rings.

The Sophomore Class was represented in the band, sports, majorettes, and lettergirls. As a highlight of the wonderful year the class provided entertainment and waitresses for Junior-Senior. THEY ALSO HAD A VERY GOOD HOMECOMING FLOAT.

The Freshman Class found their new world in high school full of fun, excitement, and hard work. As the youngest class, the freshmen met their first year and quickly adjusted to high school life with the assistance of their sponsors--Miss Merrill, Mr. Almond, and Mr. Sellari. During this year the freshmen began to take a more active part in the school's extra-curricular activities.

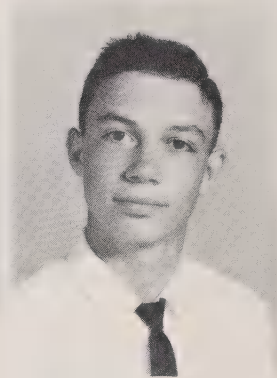

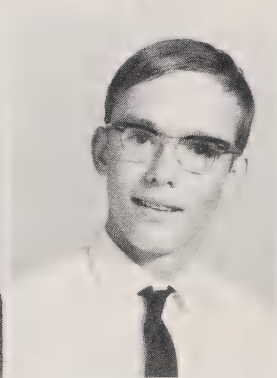

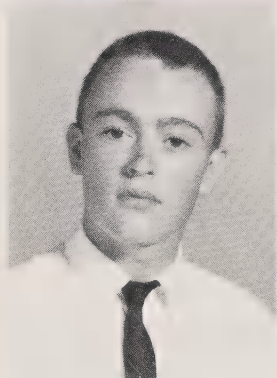

A large number of freshmen were well represented in the numerous activities at Wadesboro High School.

Our country is divided into four main areas which are Freshman, Sophomore, Junior, and Senior. Each area has its own part to contribute to our world.

The Seniors of 1966 have always helped in the leadership of our school by serving as officers of their class during their underclassman years.

This year's 1966 Seniors have always been active in the extra-curricular activities at W.H.S.

Education

Education is the most important part of our world, the school. It is the purpose of our world to educate its inhabitants--to educate them so that they will be of great service to others with whom they come in contact throughout their lives. It has been said that unless our knowledge is converted into wisdom it will become stagnant like water. At Wadesboro High School, we strive to convert our knowledge into wisdom and to discipline our minds to use their own powers. For we all want to be like a fountain rather than a reservoir. One retains; the other gives forth.

Sophomores and Juniors work diligently on their vocabulary words.

The English Department of Wadesboro High School is the place where all students learn the fundamentals of our language. Here they learn to express themselves through the best usage of words.

Department

As freshmen, the students concentrate on GREAT EXPECTATIONS; JULIUS CAESAR awaits the sophomores; juniors familiarize themselves with great American writers; and Shakespeare holds the Seniors in great suspense with his MACBETH and HAMLET.

Throughout our high school years English plays a most important part in our world.

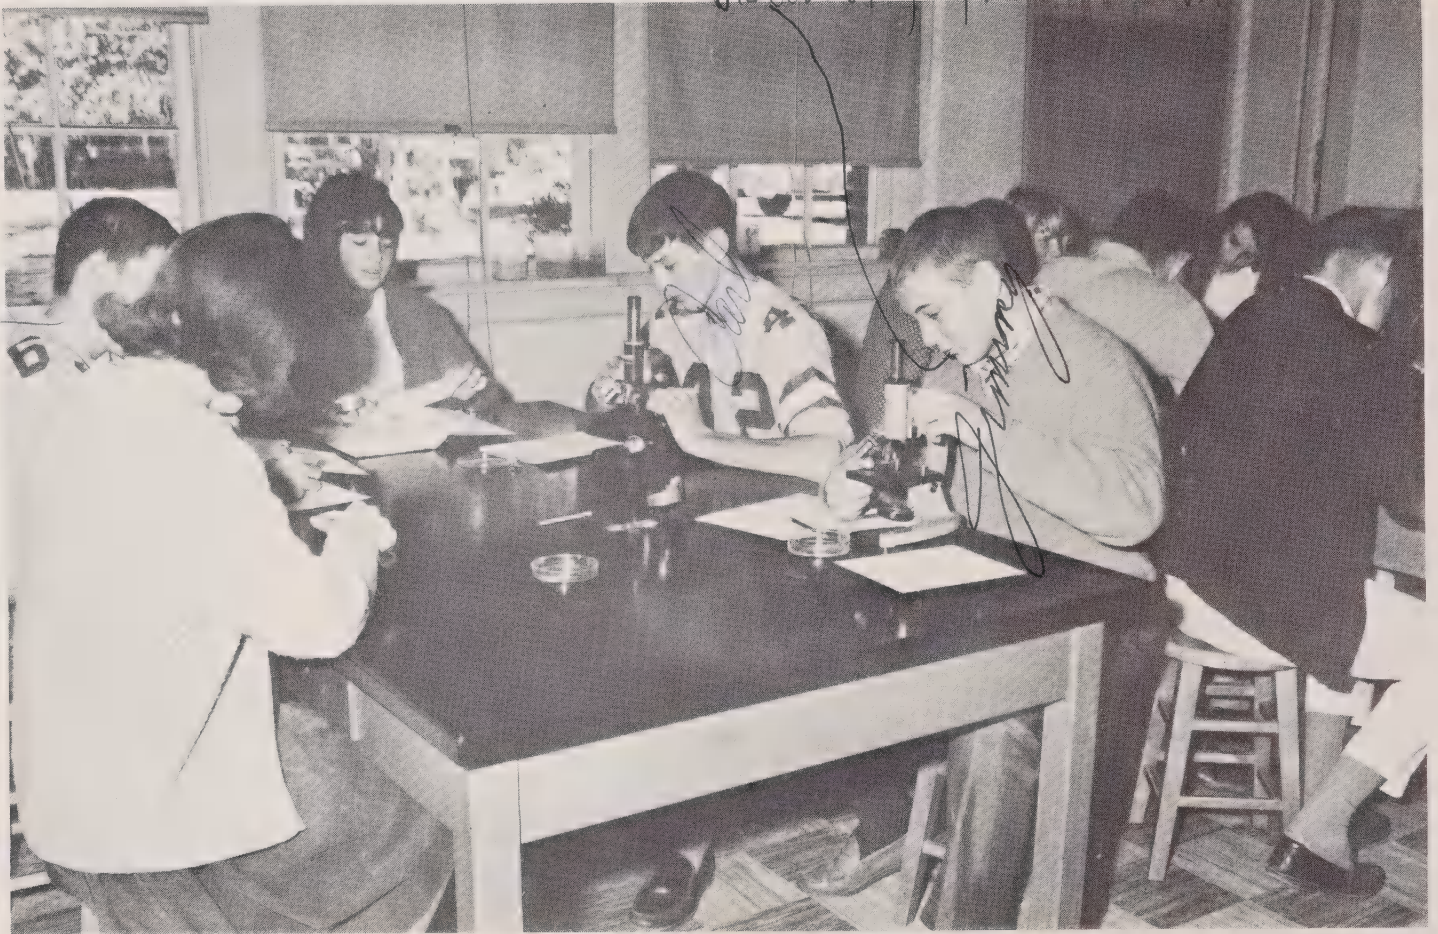

Mrs. Coln identifies birthplaces of some American authors to David Blalock and Corinne Little.

Science

Discovering the Atom

Biology students made studies of bacteria using the microscopes.

Students at Wadesboro High School have the opportunity to increase their knowledge of science in courses of general science, biology, chemistry and physics. Chemistry and physics students learn about the elements and matter. They perform many experiments in the lab which aid them in their studies.

Chemistry students learn to use lab equipment.

Department

The biology students study plant and animal life and the make-up of the human body. In general science, students receive a background for the other sciences, such as biology and chemistry.

Mrs. Dunlap explains cell division to General Science class.

Mr. Bailey discusses the principles of electricity with his physics students.

Realizing the importance of mathematics in the world of the future, the Wadesboro High School Math Department offers a variety of courses ranging from general math to advanced algebra and trigonometry for college preparatory students. Algebra I and II and geometry are also taught.

Movies aid sophomore students in their study of Algebra II.

Page Fifty-six Mr. Clayton Johnson helps Freshmen understand the unknown world of Algebra I.

Mr. Martz explains the different geometric planes to his geometry students.

Our math instructors attend various math conventions, and Mr. Martz teaches several math courses at Wingate College during the summer. The students at Wadesboro High School also compete in a national math contest in which they always place high.

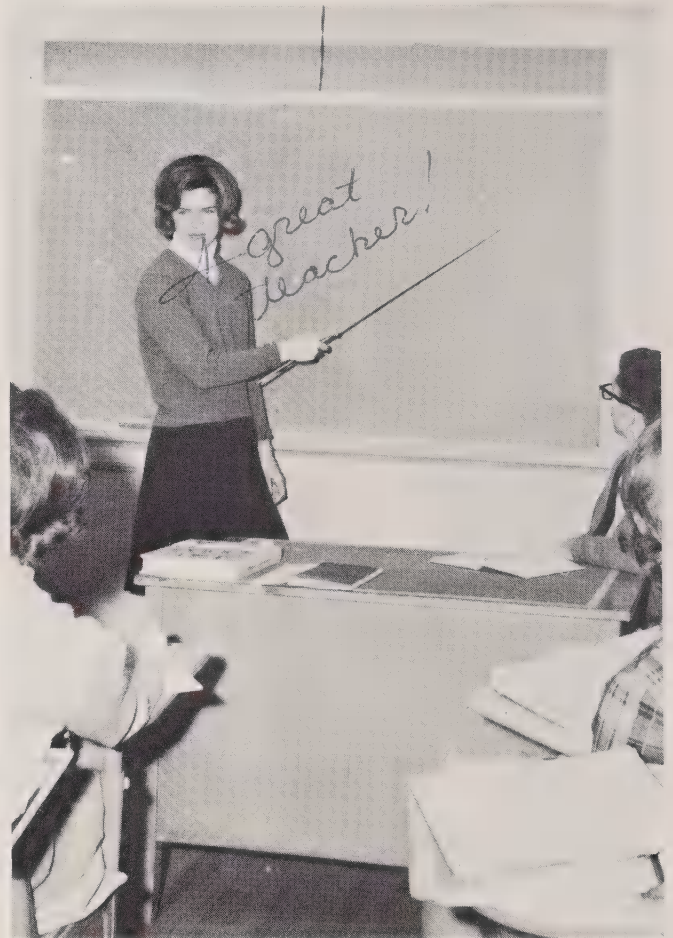

Advanced Math students struggle with seemingly unsolvable problems.

In order to prepare students for the increasingly important role which language plays in our world today, Wadesboro High School offers two major foreign languages.

Three years of instruction are available to students interested in French. French I and II classes learn orally from films. In third year French, grammar is reviewed and the students read THE COUNT OF MONTE CRISTO.

Chris Little explains the use of the feminine gender in her French III class.

Department

Being the background for the romance languages, two years of Latin are offered at Wadesboro High School in alternating years. This year the Latin II class has been reviewing grammar and working hard on translations.

Robert Burr studies a map of early Latin civilizations.

Latin II students study tediously the many Latin translations.

Girls learn how to use many different machines in office practice.

The commercial classes at Wadesboro High School are the only ones which prepare students for careers in the outside world immediately following graduation.

Department

Mr. Harold Johnson and Mrs. Joe Litaker teach the business fundamentals in courses of office practice, bookkeeping, typing, general business, and business arithmetic. They also attend several meetings on commercial work. These courses are beneficial to everyone even if they are not going into the business world.

Bookkeeping is one of the many commercial courses taught by Mrs. Harold Johnson.

Advanced typing students learn to improve their skills which they learned in Typing I.

Sociology is a senior course under the direction of Mr. Tony Sellari.

In studying the world of the past we can better understand the problems of today. Recognizing this the Wadesboro High School History Department offers a variety of courses in history and social studies.

Mexico is one of the many countries studied by World History students.

Department

These United States History students learn about the early development of our country.

Civics students learn about the laws and government of their country.

To encourage a greater appreciation of our own country's history and to form better citizens, United States History is required for all students. World History, civics, and sociology are also offered for students desiring to study them.

Freshman girls are taking notes on the anatomy of the human body.

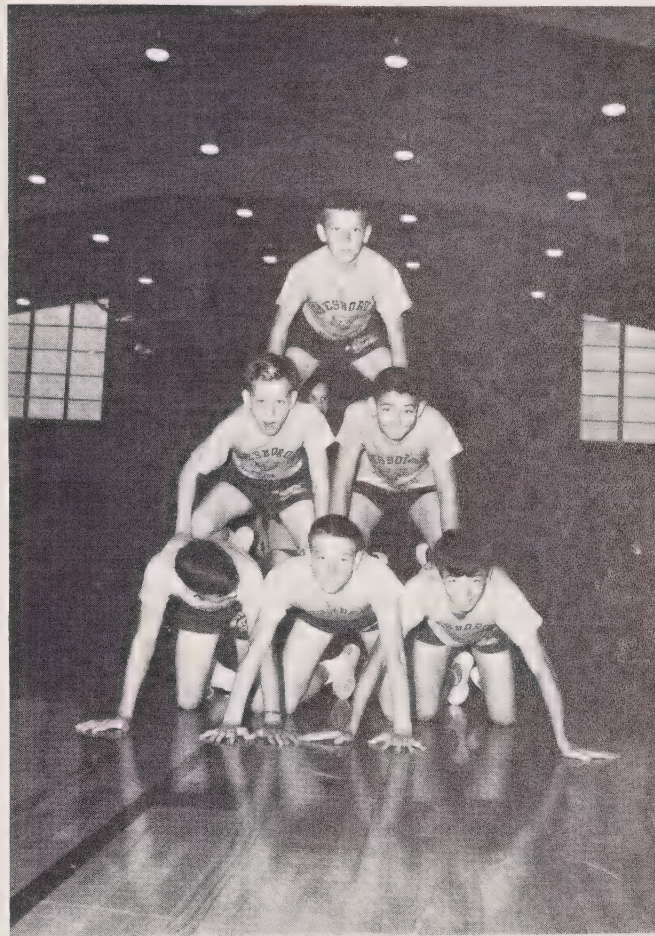

Physical education girls await anxiously to get in the locker room.

The Physical Education Department of Wadesboro High School adds much to the school program. All freshmen are required to take a course in physical education and health. They learn the fundamentals of games and also good sportsmanship.

Physical Education

These boys and girls become acquainted with healthful habits such as daily exercise and cleanliness. These classes, as well as provide a constructive outlet for a young person's unlimited energy, also do their best in making America's youth fit for tomorrow.

Gym classes learn many new types of set-ups.

Blackbottom is one of the many interesting games played by the boys and girls in physical education.

Industrial Arts

Learning a trade through experience is the objective of the Industrial Arts Program at Wadesboro High School. This department headed by Mr. David Kephart offers shop and mechanical drawing for the students who are interested in wood-working and drafting. The mechanical drawing class prepares students for college drafting and engineering.

Boys learn the basic fundamentals of mechanical drawings from their instructor Mr. Kephart.

Mr. Kephart's electronics class learns much about electrical mechanisms and the way they operate.

Frank Ferree and John Edgar Gray examine this piece of equipment.

Electronics, a relatively new course in the curriculum of Wadesboro High School, is taught by Mr. Kephart. In electronics the students not only study the theory but practice on actual kits and projects. This method of study holds the students' interest well. Besides practicing on the kits provided by the school, the pupils order electronic projects of their own which they assemble themselves.

Home Economics

Diane Brower learned techniques of sewing from Mrs. Hurst.

In today's world of automation and modern conveniences homemaking is much more complex than it has been in past years. Girls find the opportunity of studying home economics very helpful. Three years of home economics are offered at Wadesboro High School. In these courses, the girls study child care, household economics, cooking, and sewing.

Sports

Sports enable the members of our world to compete with others, develop strong bodies physically, and to become good sports no matter where they are.

As a participant in sports knows, no great achievement comes in a hurry. To do anything requires time, patience, and perseverance. These things are done by degrees, not all at one time or one practice.

The difference between great and poor teams is invincible determination--a purpose once fixed, and then death or victory. That quality will do anything that can be done in this world.

We must have optimism, determination, perseverance, time, and patience to win in any sport.

Track Team

Kathy Burns represented the track team at the district meet in Rockingham.

The track team consisted of thirty-five dedicated athletes who didn't mind sacrificing their time to give Wadesboro High School a well-rounded athletic program.

The high light of the year for the track team came when these young men traveled to Siler City to defeat their very strong high school team in a meet.

Outstanding players on the squad were co-captains Ronnie Rorie and Bo Covington. They were equally supported by Kerry Capell, Ben Chewning, David Covington, Phillip Brooks, and Glenn Trexler. These boys have helped to raise the level of athletics at Wadesboro High School to an all time high which we hope will remain a tradition.

The 1965 Tiger baseball team tied for the Central Tar Heel Conference Championship with Siler City and Rohannen.

The team's power hitters were Freddy Douglas, Bubby Watts, Paul Kiker, and Ted Moore. Great fielding was provided by Herman Tarlton, Barry James, and Johnny Martin. Excellent pitching was provided by Bubby Watts, Frank Ferree, and Paul Kiker. Four of the Tigers made the all-conference team.

Most of the players graduated, leaving only two regulars. It will take much work for the 1965-66 team to live up to this great Tiger team's record.

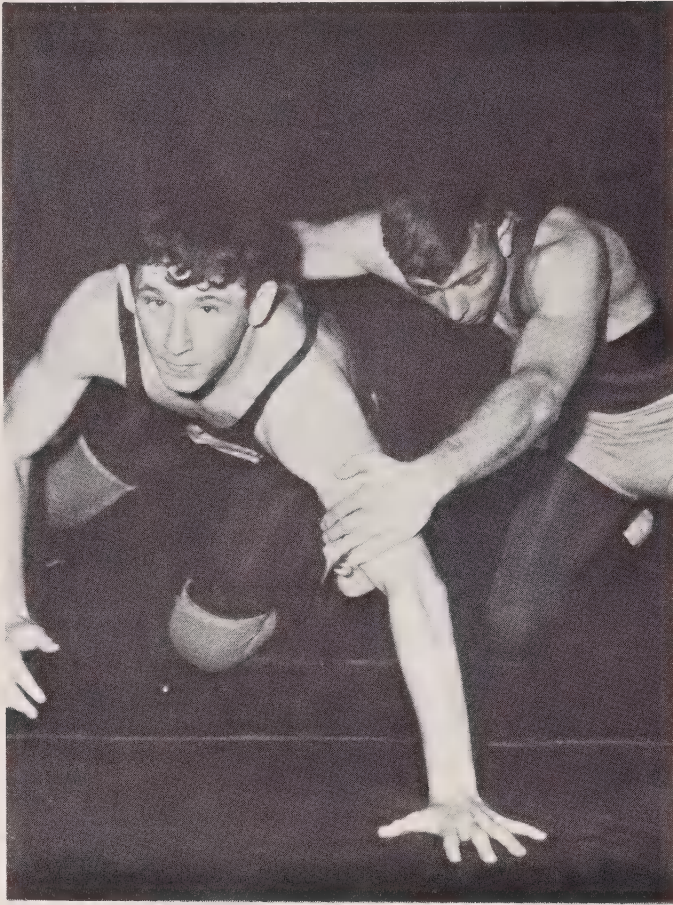

Coach Bill Thacker stood with Tiger players Barry James and Bubby Watts after the Rohanen game in which they had scored three runs each.

1966 Wrestling

Ronnie Rorie struggles with opposing wrestler.

Wrestling is a sport in which any size boy can participate, as there are thirteen different classes according to weight. The classes start at ninety-five pounds and go through heavy weight. It is a tough competitive sport that calls for strength and endurance.

This year's team, coached by Mr. Ed Emory and Mr. Grady Bailey, has several outstanding boys returning from last year. Some of these boys have been leading wrestlers for three years and could be state championship material.

This sport is one of Wadesboro High School's strongest and deserves the support of Wadesboro's citizens.

Golf Team

The golf team was revived at Wadesboro High School this year. The 1965 golf team consisted of Woody Hough, Joey McGee, Woody Huntley, Gilbert Snuggs, and Mac Harrell with Mr. Tony Sellari as coach.

The contests were played by matching one man of each school against the other. Points were scored by each individual player and by team low scores in each foursome. The school winning the most matches won the contest.

With hard work and some interest, the golf team should become a fine addition to the Wadesboro athletic program.

Booster Club

The crowd anxiously watches the basketball game between the Wadesboro Tigers and Aberdeen Red Devils.

This year has been an exceptional one for athletics at Wadesboro High School. The great success of this can be attributed to the fine coaching, the hard work done by the Booster Club, and the interest shown by the fans.

This increased crowd support made it possible for athletics to remain on an upgrade. The athletes at Wadesboro High, because of the great interest in athletics, felt that they have a responsibility to their world, the school, their community, and to themselves.

The Booster Club made possible the pre-game meals for the football team and several new pieces of needed athletic equipment. Headed by Mr. Burke Fowler, the Booster Club worked extremely hard to improve athletics at Wadesboro High School and to promote greater interest in athletics. This greater interest has been shown by the increased crowd support at the various games.

Mert Mills, captain of the 1966 basketball team, is proud of the new warm-up jackets given to the team by the Wadesboro Booster Club. Coach Tony Sellari and Burke Fowler, president of the Wadesboro Booster Club, look on.

Activities

To be well-rounded, a person should engage in many activities. Our world wants its citizens to be well-rounded so many activities are offered.

A person must also work or keep busy in order to be of use to the world. By engaging in activities, we have a purpose for living in our world.

Thomas Carlyle said, "There is perennial nobleness, and even sacredness, in work. There is always hope in a man who actually and earnestly works. In idleness alone is there perpetual despair."

The latest gospel in this world is, Know thy work and do it. It has been written, 'An endless significance lies in work.' A man perfects himself by working and has a purpose for being."

Blaise Ann!
This has really been a great year for the sophomore class. I have enjoyed being in your classes. I hope we have some more together next year. See you at the beach.
Good luck always.
Steve

Bill Capel headed one of the most dynamic chapel programs of the year. It was called to right a wrong done to one of the faculty and proved to be overwhelmingly successful. This was the first assembly held by the students without faculty supervision. Other students, such as Phillip Brooks, were allowed to voice their opinions on this matter.

It has been the purpose of the Student Council at Wadesboro High School to improve student-faculty relations, develop leadership, encourage academic as well as athletic achievement, excite among the students a willingness to serve, and create a constructive atmosphere for the betterment of our school.

This year the Student Council was faced with many problems as well as many new opportunities. The student body was made aware of its responsibilities; and in doing so, student government reached new heights of prestige and achievement.

Under the leadership of a dedicated group of officers and a new adviser, Mr. Jack Heisler, the Student Council brought about many necessary changes. Dances after the football games were provided. Much planning went into Wadesboro's nominations for district and state Student Council officers. New senior privileges were enacted, and efforts were made for the improvement of school spirit. The greater part of the year was dedicated to constitutional reforms. These reforms were enacted with the hope that in future years, the progress made this past year would be continued.

The work on the 1966 TIGER TALES was accomplished at last amid an exciting whirl of activity and confusion. How time flew with so much to be done. There were pictures to take, copy to write, money to make, and plans to approve. But finally after months of hard work and much anxiety, the annual staff, under the guidance of Mrs. Joe Litaker, finished its task.

Features

In our world we have many features. These features are like the palm tree.

The palm tree is remarkable for its beauty, its erect aspiring growth, its leafy canopy, and its waving plumes. The tree's foliage is a symbol of joy and exultation. It never fades, and the dust never settles upon it. For usefulness, the palm tree is unrivalled. Giben says that the natives of Syria speak of three hundred and sixty uses to which the palm is applied.

Both the palm and the features of our world are emblems for praise. They stand out like lighthouses around us.

The quiet lull of the desolate lighthouse after a glorious "Bon Voyage".

As Junior-Senior drew to a close so does the year of our world, the school. What a wonderful year it has been too, full of work, activities, and fun.

We, the students, should all remember, however, to give to our world as well as take from it. Each of us has something to offer no matter how small or great it may be.

It is not what the world gives me
In honor, praise or gold;
It is what I do give the world,
So others do unfold.

If by my work through life I can
Another soul unfold,
Then I have done what cannot be
Made good, by praise or gold.

One tiny thought in tiny word
May give a great one birth,
And, if that thought was caused by me,
I lived a life of worth.

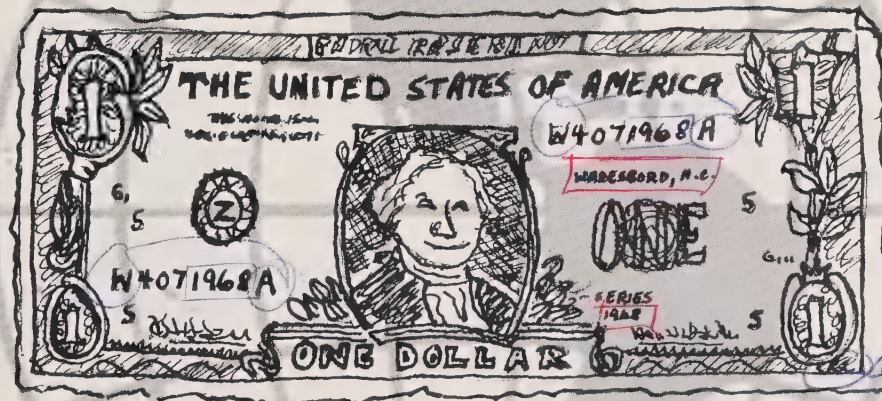

-Richard F. Wolfe

The world is made by the inhabitants of it. We can make it good or bad, a place of joy or hate. It is up to us for "We hold the whole world in our hands."

Clara Ann,

This sure has been one fun year, the best year that I think we've ever had. We'll always remember this year especially as the great sophomore class officers. We've had some wild times on that float that only came in 4th place, and you were the one who announced our humiliation to the entire school. I remember the times we've had in the great Junior Honor Society with Minerva constantly running her mouth. I remember the long hours spent on the telephone trying to explain that ridiculous hard chemistry to each other. I remember struggling through logarithms and slide rules in Algebra. I remember the great times we've had working on your campaigns this year and last year. Even though, now I don't have the slightest idea who will win, I can only wish you luck and give you help. When you read this years from now, it'll all be over, and we'll both be out of high school. By the way, since I'm leaving next year I want to make my short last will and Testament: I do hereby bequeath my beloved Alfred C. Neuman sign to Eleanor Ann Harrell for her to use in her campaign when she runs for president of the student council. Good luck. There are just so many more pleasant memories to recount that I could never put them in writing, but I'll always remember them, and when I'm grown and make my living by begging in Wadesboro, my life will be brightened by my many memories of you. You know, you were my first big romance, and my first date was when I took you to a dance out at the Country Club when we were in the fifth or sixth grade, I forget which. I even wrote a love poem about you back then, and even though I've never shown it to you, just remind me sometime and I'll try to show it to you. Lots of luck to you and the best of everything especially happiness in the future. Try hard in everything and with brains and your wonderful personality you're certain to go far in the world. Love always, you're mad, it takes someone like you to compute what I said he killed, ~~that~~

Eleanor,

Where can I start? We've had some good times together. Let's have plenty more. We can do a whole bunch now that we're monopolizing the streets nowadays. This year has gone by sooo fast. I hope next year goes even faster for us. I'm sure it will. You've been a great friend to me and I hope we'll continue to remain close friends.

Best wishes,

Adrianne

ELEANOR AND

THIS YEAR HAS BEEN A GREAT YEAR, I HOPE WE HAVE MANY MORE LIKE IT - REMEMBER THE GREAT TIMES IN THE SNOW AND N.J.H.S. WAS REALLY GREAT TOO. I HOPE WE HAVE SOME GREAT TIMES THIS YEAR AT THE BEACH (I'M GONNA SPONGE OFF THE HOUSEPARTIES) ELEANOR AND, YOU ARE A GREAT PERSON WITH A WONDERFUL MIND (CORN) SO STAY THAT WAY AND YOU WILL HAVE THIS O/E WORLD LICKED

Your friend + half neighbor,

Flave

Eleanor,

Will this has really been a great year for all of us. We really missed you this year and the year before on the majorette squad. We really use to have some wild times as for high heels. Remember that time when we marched in that parade in Marshallville?

I have really enjoyed being in 2 classes with you this year. (5+6) periods are always the greatest. (Ending of the Day)

Eleanor I just want you to know that I think all of the world in you. You are a precious girl and I thank you for everything that you have done for me.

Well best of luck in the future to a great girl. Stay sweet & cute and work hard on that piano!

Love ya,
Gilda

P.S. When I get old, I'm gonna

Eleanor,

This year has really been one of the greatest for me. Hope you were treated O.K. too. We have had a blast in Fannie's room. That is one class I'll never forget. Remember the way she read?!? Didn't get on our nerves a bit! And the things she tried so desperately to explain to us!? Honestly, sometimes, I thought I would panic! How about the way she walked ... or better, ran. Maybe we can look up and get her for something next year. I sure hope so, seeing how much we learned this year. Remember I-n-i-t-i-a-t-i-v-e, G-e-a-r-u-n-d-e, p-a-r-t-i-c-i-p-i-t. At least we learned to spell!

You were a great treasure for our Student Council. I must say you did a great job. I guess you know you won only because I voted for you! Also, I'd like to wish you the very best of luck in your campaign for U.P. (you will make a good one if you get it!)

Best of luck to a wonderful, talented, smart, witty, dependable, (wow...) and GREAT FRIEND!

P.S. Have a wonderful summer, Eleanor. I mean it!

Love ya always,
Libby Oprex

Eleanor,

This year is almost over. I can hardly believe it! Just think, in about 4 weeks we will be getting ready for that Houseparty! That black probably won't survive while we all down there -

Eleanor, I wanted you to be U.P. but maybe next year you can be Pres; and best of all I hope you make majorette. I missed seeing you out there leading the band -
Good luck to a sweet, cute and good friend!
Love, Pennie
